

A brief intro to our team and product!

We are domestic rabbits, and basically, we eat, pee, and poop all day, every day... Our humans use our poop in the garden, and it's looking fabulous!

Bunny poops are dry pellets, odorless, rich in nitrogen and phosphorus, nutrients that plants need for healthy growth.

Bunny poop is an excellent fertilizer, often considered "black gold" for gardens because it is packed with nutrients and won't burn plants.

It is a "cold" manure, meaning it can be applied directly to plants without needing to be composted

There are 3 easy ways to use our product

Direct/Top Dressing: Sprinkle around established plants, trees, or bushes, then water in.

Soil Amendment: Mix 1 part of pellets with 5 parts of soil for potting or raised beds.

Rabbit Tea: Soak 2 cups of manure in a bucket of water for a day to make a liquid nutrient boost.

Now you know! Make your Plants and Soil happy with Three Bunnies Poop
